From Heaven Or From Men?

Jesus respected the question of authority. On the morning after He drove the merchants and money changers out of the temple, the Sanhedrin demanded to know, "By what authority are you doing these things? Or who is he who gave You this authority?" (Luke 20:2). They viewed the temple as their own domain, and they certainly hadn't given Jesus permission to teach there, much less to regulate what occurred on temple grounds. After all, He had not graduated from rabbinical school, so they viewed Him as a presumptuous intruder.

Jesus didn't deny the need for authority, but neither did He accept their demand for human approval. In an absolutely brilliant maneuver, Jesus changed the focus to divine authority and the Sanhedrin's total lack of fitness to judge His credentials. He asked a simple multiple-choice question: "The baptism of John – was it from heaven or from men?" (Luke 20:4).

The Sanhedrin certainly hadn't approved John's work. He had rebuked some of them, calling them a generation of vipers! (Matthew 3:7). The people, however, correctly counted John to be a prophet (thus having authority from God in heaven). Since the Sanhedrin feared the people, they refused to state their true convictions that John's authority was from men, that is, he was acting on his own. Instead, they claimed not to know, thereby confessing themselves unfit to judge Jesus' source of authority.

We should follow Jesus' example of asking not for human authority, but for divine authority. Every teaching and practice should be put to the test: "Is this from heaven or from men?" Let us teach and do what God authorizes in His word while rejecting all that lacks divine sanction!

Luke 20:19-26

<sup>19</sup>And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour sought to lay hands on him; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them. <sup>20</sup>And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should feign themselves just men, that they might take hold of his words, that so they might deliver him unto the power and authority of the governor. <sup>21</sup>And they asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of any, but teachest the way of God truly: <sup>22</sup>Is it lawful for us to give tribute unto Caesar, or no? <sup>23</sup>But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me? <sup>24</sup>Shew me a penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Caesar's. <sup>25</sup>And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things which be Caesar's, and unto God the things which be God's. <sup>26</sup>And they could not take hold of his words before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.
